Capital Bank Signs on as Corporate Partner

Washington, DC – Capital Bank has signed on with the United States Navy Memorial as a Corporate Partner effective January 1, 2018.

Capital Bank is a mid-sized bank focused on serving the diverse needs of business owners in the greater Washington, D.C. metropolitan area. Capital Bank has supported the Navy Memorial for several years and in early 2017 began providing the Navy Memorial's primary banking services.

“Our highest honor is serving those who protect and serve our country,” stated David Vardeman, Department Head, MD, DC, and VA, Not for Profit and Global Business Development, Capital Bank, N.A.

The mission of the Navy Memorial is to Honor, Recognize and Celebrate the men and women of the Sea Services, past, present and future; and to inform the public about their service.

“Our partnership with Capital Bank, including their most efficient banking services as well as their recent sponsorships and involvement with our programs, is greatly appreciated,” said retired Navy Rear Admiral Frank Thorp, President and CEO of the Navy Memorial.

The Navy Memorial, located at 701 Pennsylvania Ave, NW, consists of a large plaza with a granite map of the world, the iconic Lone Sailor statue, 3,500 square-foot museum area, a 240-person theater, the Ship's Store which sells Navy memorabilia and the Navy Log, the nation's largest publicly available data base of sea service veterans. Our mission is to Honor, Recognize and Celebrate the men and women of the Sea Services, past, present and future; and to inform the public about their service. We do that mission with the support of tens of thousands of members and Corporate Partners including USAA, Veritas, CACI, Lockheed Martin, DXC Technology, Huntington Ingalls Industry, NewDay USA, Ernst & Young, General Dynamics, Navy Mutual Aid, Pratt & Whitney, and now Capital Bank
